2. The value of the Fund may be more susceptible to adverse economic, political, policy, foreign exchange, liquidity, tax, legal or regulatory events affecting Hong Kong and China markets.
3. The Fund may invest in derivatives. The use of derivatives exposes the Fund to additional risks, including volatility risk, liquidity risk and counterparty/credit risk and credit risk regarding access product issuer.
4. The Fund may invest into other funds. There will be additional costs involved.

7. Investments involve risks. The Fund, like most funds, does not provide any guarantees. You have the opportunity to lose some or all of your investment. Investment decisions should not be made solely on the basis of this promotional material. Please refer to the explanatory memorandum for information before investing to understand the risk factors and other information. Past performance is not indicative of future performance. If you have any questions, please contact your financial advisor and seek professional advice.
8. The Manager currently intends to make quarterly dividend distribution for the A Units HKD (Dist) class at its discretion. Dividends may be paid out of capital or effectively out of capital of the relevant Class and may result in an immediate reduction of the Net Asset Value per Unit of the Fund.

Investment Objective and Strategy

The investment objective of the Fund is to provide long-term capital appreciation by primarily investing in listed equities with a China focus. There can be no assurance that the Fund will achieve its investment objective.

The Fund seeks to achieve its objective primarily through exposure to companies established in China or those which, whilst established outside China, derive a significant proportion of their revenue or profits from business related to China. The Fund makes investments into companies that, in the Manager's opinion, have been undervalued by the market. There is no restriction on market capitalizations or industries in relation to the equity securities in which the Fund may invest.

Under normal circumstances, the asset allocation strategy is that at least 70% of the Fund's Net Asset Value will be invested in stocks of companies established in China or those which, whilst established outside China, derive a significant proportion of their revenue or profits from business related to China (including but not limited to investment in depositary receipts such as American Depositary Receipts), and, subject to an overall upper limit on onshore PRC exposure of 20% of the Fund's Net Asset Value, up to 20% of the Fund's Net Asset Value will be invested directly or indirectly in stocks listed in Shanghai (including stocks listed on the Sci-Tech Innovation Board (the "STAR Board")) and/or Shenzhen (including stocks in the ChiNext market and/or stocks listed on the Small and Medium Enterprise Board (the "SME Board")).

Fund Manager's Comment

Following a brutal September dragged by global markets, October delivered another blow to China equities. The National Party Congress concluded, with markets reacting with a vote of no confidence, fearing the new government's economic ideology, covid policy and foreign relations. Record foreign outflows saw the Hang Seng Index plunge 14.7% and the CNY fall 2.7% during the month. US markets rebounded but was amid a surge in volatility, with key indices whipsawing over 5% intra-day before and after macro-economic releases and stocks reacting violently to quarterly earnings announcements. Companies continue to guide down their outlook as demand slows and turn to focus on cost cutting efforts. Looking ahead, as near term earnings deteriorate, markets will increasingly look for signs of pivot: Fed pivot on interest rates in the US and policy pivot on covid, property market and private enterprise in China.
