

Investment Objective and Strategy

The investment objective of the Fund is to provide long-term capital appreciation by primarily investing in listed equities with a China focus. There can be no assurance that the Fund will achieve its investment objective.

The Fund seeks to achieve its objective primarily through exposure to companies established in China or those which, whilst established outside China, derive a significant proportion of their revenue or profits from business related to China. The Fund makes investments into companies that, in the Manager's opinion, have been undervalued by the market. There is no restriction on market capitalizations or industries in relation to the equity securities in which the Fund may invest.

Under normal circumstances, the asset allocation strategy is that at least 70% of the Fund's Net Asset Value will be invested in stocks of companies established in China or those which, whilst established outside China, derive a significant proportion of their revenue or profits from business related to China (including but not limited to investment in depositary receipts such as American Depositary Receipts), and, subject to an overall upper limit on onshore PRC exposure of 20% of the Fund's Net Asset Value, up to 20% of the Fund's Net Asset Value will be invested directly or indirectly in stocks listed in Shanghai (including stocks listed on the Sci-Tech Innovation Board (the "STAR Board")) and/or Shenzhen (including stocks in the ChiNext market and/or stocks listed on the Small and Medium Enterprise Board (the "SME Board")).

Fund Manager's Comment

The correction in global equities continued in October, as US long bond yields breached the 5% level and geopolitics worsened with the Israel-Gaza war, hitting valuations and sentiment. The slew of negatives culminated in a low point in October and at the time of writing, a relief rally is underway, triggered by lower-than-expected inflation figures from the US and Japan. US 10-year yields have come down from October highs and the market is pricing in rate cuts to come as early as mid-2024, but we believe the Fed will keep tweaking its language to prevent financial conditions from loosening too much too soon.

In China, sequential improvement in the economy was not strong enough to alleviate investor concerns on rates, currency and fund flow. Of note, October retail sales grew 7.6% yoy, surprising on the upside, while fixed asset investment growth slowed to 2.9% yoy, highlighting the uneven economic recovery. Medium term lending volume picked up pace in October and there is noise of more stimulus coming in the property sector. We may also see some thawing in US-China relations, after the non-confrontational meeting between Xi and Biden. Near term, we see reasons for optimism. Further out, China offshore markets remain in a tug of war between low valuations/sequential recovery and structural headwinds/global fund outflow.
